Bio Update Report - Error Messages

Error Message	Description of Error Messages
BEDS code is required	BEDS code field is null.
Claims exist - deletion aborted	A provider wants to delete a student from the database but is not allowed to because claims exist for that student.
Demographic data inconsistent with CIN	Add transaction is attempted with the CIN included in the input record. The CIN is valid, but discrepancies exist between biographical data as provided by DOH and the provider. The affected fields are last name, first name, date of birth and gender. When date of birth and gender are correct for the input CIN, the error message will include exact spelling of first and last name to use to accomplish an eligibility match.
Invalid BEDS code	BEDS code value in input file is not on system file.
Invalid Provider Number for BEDS code	The Provider Number and BEDS Code fields do not cross-reference. Either one of these fields must be corrected.

SSHSP CNY-Web Report-Error Messages

Student not found - deletion aborted	A provider tried to delete one of their students from the database but was unable to because the student could not be found based on the retrieval criteria. There are two different mechanisms for deleting a student, depending on whether a CIN was submitted with the delete record. When a CIN is NOT submitted with the record, the program searches exclusively for an 'unmatched' student. If a CIN is submitted then the search targets biographical records submitted by the provider with the same CIN. The found record is deleted, regardless of the student's eligibility status. If multiple records are found, record with 'unmatched' status will be deleted first and the 'matched' record, the one that has been determined to be Medicaid eligible, will not be deleted.
Student sex code is required	Gender (sex code) field is null.
Zip code must be numeric	Zip code in input record is not valid - must be numeric.

Non-Match Report - Error Messages

Error Message	Description of Error Messages
Forced Match Error	A match was attempted by means of a previously submitted CIN transaction, but there is no corresponding CIN and the transaction is therefore rejected.
Match Not Found	The student's biographical data submitted by the provider does not match anyone from the pool of Medicaid eligible students supplied by DOH to the CNYRIC.
Multiple Matches Found	The matching algorithm could not narrow down the matchable students to one. The transaction is rejected and the multiple matches listed on the non-match report.
Near Match	A match could not conclusively be accomplished; however, eligible record(s) exist with nearly matching data, warranting closer inspection to determine if it is the same student.
